

Policy on naming pharmacists<sup>1</sup> who are the subject of an order or direction made by Council (“Naming Policy”)

Policy statement

If the Pharmacy Council (Council) exercises its statutory power to make any order or direction that it has authority to make in respect of a pharmacist, it will turn its mind to whether to publish a notice naming the pharmacist under section 157(1) of the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 (the Act).

In doing so, Council will be guided by the principles set out in this policy to ensure that its decision complies with relevant laws, and appropriately balances the public interest in the pharmacist being named against the private interests of the pharmacist.

Key policy points

- Council’s primary obligation is to ensure that it protects the health and safety of the public. This includes ensuring that the public is provided with information in which it has an interest.
- The Council recognises Māori as tangata whenua and partner in Te Tiriti o Waitangi and seeks to act in accordance with the principles of Te Tiriti and provide for appropriate Māori protocols that will be followed in the recognition and incorporation of tikanga Māori.
- When considering naming a pharmacist, Council will consider the purpose of the Act, and the purpose of this Naming Policy as set out in section 157B(2).
- In each case before it, Council will weigh the public interest in naming the pharmacist against the pharmacist’s privacy interests, including the consequences for the pharmacist’s reputation. Where the balance is even, Council is likely to favour public interest, and name the pharmacist.
- Council is aware that a decision to name a pharmacist is likely to have consequences for the pharmacist. It will apply this policy judiciously and with appropriate regard for all of the circumstances of the particular case.
- If Council proposes to name a pharmacist, it will first give the pharmacist the opportunity to make submissions on the proposal before making a final decision.

Statutory context

1. The Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 (the Act) came into force in September 2004. Its principal purpose as described in section 3(1) is:
“...to protect the health and safety of members of the public by providing for mechanisms to ensure that health practitioners are competent and fit to practise their professions.”
2. Council is a statutory authority established under the Act. Section 118 of the Act sets out the functions of Council in terms of its obligations to protect the health and safety of members of the public, including:
“to receive information from any person about the practice, conduct, or competence of health practitioners and, if it is appropriate to do so, act on that information.”
3. In April 2019, changes were made to the Act, including the requirement, under sections 157A to 157I, for Council to adopt a “Naming Policy” setting out the circumstances in which Council will publish the name of a practitioner under section 157(1) of the Act. These new sections were added to the Act in the context of a clear direction from Parliament (combined with other changes) that greater transparency in the regulation of health practitioners is required.<sup>2</sup>

Purpose of the policy

4. The purpose of this policy, as set out in section 157B(2) of the Act is to:
  - (a) enhance public confidence in the health professions for which Council is responsible and its disciplinary procedures by providing transparency about its decision-making processes; and
  - (b) ensure that pharmacists whose conduct has not met expected standards may be named where it is in the public interest to do so; and
  - (c) improve the safety and quality of health care.
5. Council has developed this policy in order to assist it in meeting the statutory requirements of section 157B, and to:
  - (a) reflect current practice in the courts and related decision-making authorities;
  - (b) reflect increasing transparency in international health regulation;
  - (c) enhance public confidence both in pharmacists, and in the regulation of pharmacists, by providing information that assures the public that regulation is responsive to risk;
  - (d) provide members of the public with access to information that assists them in making an informed choice about healthcare services they seek.

Practitioners to whom this policy applies

6. This policy applies to all health practitioners who are currently registered by Council in any scope of practice, (namely intern pharmacist, pharmacist and pharmacist prescriber scopes of practice), and former practitioners who have previously been registered by Council in any scope of practice (see section 157(5)).

Circumstances in which a practitioner may be named

7. Section 157(1) of the Act provides that Council may publish a notice setting out:
  - the effect of any order or direction it makes under the Act in respect of a health practitioner; and
  - a summary of any finding that it has made under the Act in respect of the health practitioner; and
  - the name of the practitioner.
8. A complete list of all the orders and directions Council may make in respect of a pharmacist is set out in Appendix 1.

9. In all circumstances where Council makes an order, the making of that order will trigger consideration of whether to publish a notice under section 157(1) of the Act naming the pharmacist to whom the order applies.
10. It is unlikely that Council will publicly name a pharmacist in every situation where an order or direction is made. The decision whether to name a pharmacist will depend on:
  - (a) the individual circumstances of the case at the time that the order or direction is made;
  - (b) the nature of the order made, and
  - (c) the application of the principles and criteria set out in this policy.

Principles guiding naming decisions

Core principles

11. In each case before it, Council will apply the following principles:
  - (a) Council will have regard to the principal purpose of the Act, which is to protect public health and safety.
  - (b) Council will have regard to the statutory purpose of the naming policy as set out in section 157B. That is, to:
    - (i) enhance public confidence in the health professions for which Council is responsible and its disciplinary procedures by providing transparency about its decision-making processes; and
    - (ii) ensure that health practitioners whose conduct has not met expected standards may be named where it is in the public interest to do so; and
    - (iii) improve the safety and quality of health care.
  - (c) A decision to name will not be made for punitive purposes.
  - (d) Council will abide by the principles of natural justice, including providing the pharmacist with the right to make submissions before a final decision is made on whether to name.
  - (e) Council will consider the individual circumstances of the case when weighing the pharmacist's privacy interest(s) against the public interest in the pharmacist being named. In doing so, Council will refer to the considerations set out in Appendix 2.
  - (f) Where Council has weighed the pharmacist's privacy interest(s) against the public interest and it is evenly balanced, Council is likely to favour the public's right to know.

- (g) Council will consider the matter in a timely manner, balancing the need to allow the pharmacist a reasonable opportunity to make submissions against the apparent seriousness of the issue and the need to ensure the public is protected.

Decisions relating to competence orders under sections 38 and 43

12. Section 38 orders must be made if, after conducting a competence review, Council has reason to believe that a pharmacist fails to meet the required standard of competence.
13. Section 43 orders may be made if a pharmacist who is required to complete a competence or recertification programme does not satisfy the requirements of the programme.
14. In both cases, Council considers that members of the public have a strong interest in having access to information to assist them in making an informed choice about whether to receive health services from the pharmacist. For this reason, the presumption will be that the pharmacist will be named, unless there is good reason not to do so.

Decisions relating to orders made under sections 48 – 50

15. Orders made under sections 48 – 50 relate to interventions where there are concerns about a pharmacist's health/fitness to practise and include interim orders in that regard.
16. In these cases, Council will have regard to the highly sensitive nature of the pharmacist's personal health information. The presumption will be that the pharmacist will not be named, unless there is good reason to do so.

Additional principles that will apply where interim orders are made (other than interim orders relating to health/fitness to practise)

17. Council is conscious that interim orders are usually made to ensure that public safety is protected while further information is gathered to determine whether the pharmacist does in fact pose a risk to the public - and if so, the extent of that risk. When considering whether to name under this policy, Council will have regard to the following additional considerations:
  - (a) The unsubstantiated nature of the matter before it, and
  - (b) The extent to which Council can be satisfied that any perceived risk can be mitigated by the interim action taken.

Principles that will apply when practitioner is required to surrender their practising certificate

18. Section 33 of the Act provides that if a pharmacist's name is removed from the register or if their registration or practising certificate is suspended or if their practising certificate requires endorsing under section 32, they must, within 14 days after receiving notice, send to the Registrar:

- a. acknowledgement of the notice, if their practising certificate was issued electronically; or
  - b. their practising certificate, if it was issued in hard copy.
19. If the pharmacist fails to comply with s 33, Council will consider whether this raises doubts about the pharmacist's compliance with the suspension or cancellation order and whether this heightens the public interest in naming the pharmacist.
  20. In these cases, the presumption will be that that the pharmacist will be named, unless there is good reason not to do so.
  21. If the Council has already determined not to name a pharmacist in relation to the order to cancel or suspend, but the pharmacist subsequently fails to comply with s 33, Council may reconsider its decision under s 157 taking into account the principles above.

Principles that will apply when ordering the revocation of orders

22. Section 51 of the Act provides that Council may make an order revoking any suspension imposed under section 39, 48, or 50, or revoke or vary any conditions imposed under section 39, 48, 50, 67A or 69A.
23. If Council did not name the pharmacist when making the original order, it is unlikely to name the pharmacist when revoking or amending that order.
24. If Council named the pharmacist when making the original order, it may publish a notice that it has revoked or varied the order. Council will apply the principles set out in this policy to its decision but acknowledges that the pharmacist may have a reputational interest in the publication or otherwise of a second notice. Council will consider the pharmacist's views on whether publication of an order of revocation is likely to have a positive or negative effect on their reputation.

Criteria to be applied when making a naming decision

25. Council has adopted the following criteria that are to be met before a decision to name may be made:
  - (a) Council has made an order or direction under the Act (a list of all possible orders and directions is set out in Appendix 1) in relation to a pharmacist that is registered or has previously been registered by Council.
  - (b) Council is satisfied that naming the pharmacist is consistent with the statutory purposes of the naming policy as set out in section 157B(2) of the Act (i.e., public confidence; public interest; and safety and quality of healthcare).
  - (c) Having referred to the considerations set out in Appendix 2, Council is satisfied that the public interest in naming the pharmacist outweighs the pharmacist's privacy interest.

- (d) Council has given the pharmacist notice of its proposed decision to name the pharmacist, including the proposed wording of the notice and an indication of the method(s) of publication, and has advised the pharmacist of their right to make submissions on the proposal.
- (e) Council has considered and applied the relevant principles of Right Touch/Risk Based regulation to its decision. These principles are:
  - (i) Consistency: Council is satisfied that its decision is consistent with legal requirements, and the requirements of this policy.
  - (ii) Transparency: Council is satisfied that its process has been transparent, and that its decision complies with its obligations to provide transparency to the public about the health practitioners Council regulates.
  - (iii) Targeting: Council is satisfied that the way in which it proposes to name the pharmacist, including the media in which the notice will be published, is appropriately targeted towards the members of the public who may seek healthcare services from the pharmacist.
  - (iv) Accountability: Council is satisfied that its decision assists it in meeting its responsibility to be accountable to the public, and to the practitioners it regulates.
  - (v) Proportionality: Council is satisfied that its decisions relating to naming the pharmacist – including the decision to name, the contents of the notice, and the media in which the notice will be published – are proportionate to the risk identified.
  - (vi) Agility: Council is satisfied that it has responded appropriately to the issue, including acting where it believes action is necessary to mitigate risk to the public, as opposed to delaying action until that risk eventuates. Council has also put systems in place to ensure that it is able to reconsider the matter promptly at any point where new information appears to alter its current position.
- (f) Council has considered and is satisfied that naming the practitioner is fair, reasonable, proportionate and rationally connected to the statutory purpose of publication under s 157 (i.e., public confidence; public interest; and safety and quality of healthcare).

Information that may be disclosed when naming a pharmacist

- 26. Section 157(1) of the Act provides that if Council decides to publish a notice, the notice sets_out:
  - (a) the effect of any order or direction it has made under this Act in respect of a health practitioner; and
  - (b) a summary of any finding it has made under this Act in respect of the health practitioner; and

(c) the name of the health practitioner.

27. When deciding whether to publish a notice, Council will provide the pharmacist with a draft of the proposed notice and will consider any submissions from the pharmacist on the proposed content.

Privacy Act principles

28. Council must have regard to its obligations to comply with the information privacy principles (IPP) in section 22 of the Privacy Act 2020. The IPPs reflect accepted standards for handling information about an identifiable individual, including that an individual's personal information should not be 'made public' without the individual's authorisation, or in accordance with one of the established exceptions.
29. One of the key grounds on which information may be used or disclosed without authorisation is where the information is being used or disclosed for a purpose directly related to a reason why the information was obtained (IPP 10(1)(a) and 11(1)(a)). Council collects information to ensure the practitioners it regulates are competent and safe to practise – thereby protecting the public. Any use or disclosure that is directly related to the purpose for which the information was collected (e.g. the protection of the public) would be consistent with the IPPs.
30. Another justification for using or disclosing information without authorisation is whether such use or disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious threat to public health or public safety or the life or health of an individual (IPP 10(1)(f) and IPP 11(1)(f))<sup>3</sup>. Section 7 of the Privacy Act 2020 defines "serious threat" as a threat that Council reasonably believes to be a serious threat having regard to all of the following:
- a. the likelihood of the threat being realised; and
  - b. the severity of the consequences if the threat is realised; and
  - c. the time at which the threat may be realised.

Procedures Council will follow when deciding whether to name a pharmacist

31. To ensure the decision-making process is consistently applied, Council's procedure will be as follows:
- (a) Having made an order or direction, Council will consider whether to propose to publish a notice under section 157(1) of the Act, including naming the pharmacist.
  - (b) In considering whether to do so, Council will apply the principles and criteria set out in this policy (above).
  - (c) If, having applied the principles and criteria of this policy, Council forms a view that it will propose to publish a notice naming the pharmacist, it will consider the proposed content of the notice, and the proposed means by which the pharmacist may be named.

- (d) Having formed views on these matters, Council will advise the pharmacist of its proposal to name the pharmacist, including the proposed content of the notice and the proposed means of naming, and will provide the pharmacist with a reasonable opportunity to make submissions on the proposal.
  - (e) The Council will follow the protocols according to tikanga Māori for Māori pharmacists making submissions to Council.
  - (f) Having provided the pharmacist with a reasonable opportunity to make submissions on the matter, Council will consider any submissions made by the pharmacist or on his/her behalf, before making a final decision on whether to publish the proposed notice.
  - (g) When the Council decides to publish a notice, it will also confirm the conditions and timeframe for reviewing the relevance of the notice.
32. Council will make a written record of its decision-making with respect to the steps set out at 27(a)-(g) above, including any decision not to publish a notice under s 157.

(see next page for flowchart of process)

Regard to consequences for the pharmacist

33. Section 157B(3)(e) requires the Council to have regard to the consequences for the practitioner being named, including the likely harm to the practitioner's reputation. The practitioner's reputation encompasses both their personal and professional reputation.
34. Council is conscious that a decision to name a pharmacist is a "high stakes" decision for the pharmacist in question. This does not mean that Council will not name in situations where there are likely to be consequences for the pharmacist. However, it does mean that Council will carefully consider the question of consequences for the pharmacist before proceeding.
35. There are two points in the process where it is appropriate for Council to pause and consider the consequences for the pharmacist, before determining how to proceed, as follows:
  - (a) When deciding whether to propose to name the pharmacist, and if so, deciding what information is to be included in the proposed notice; and
  - (b) When considering submissions from the pharmacist (if any) and deciding whether to confirm its proposal to name.
36. If, having considered all the relevant information and determined that the pharmacist is to be named, Council will adopt the following principles when considering the consequences for the pharmacist:
  - (a) Council will provide only the information that is permitted by section 157(1), unless agreed otherwise with the pharmacist.
  - (b) Council will refer to and consider any submissions from the pharmacist on this point.
  - (c) Any notice(s) will only be published where it is most likely to be seen by members of the public likely to be affected by, or have an interest in, the order.

The means by which a pharmacist may be named

37. Depending on the circumstances of the case, Council may publish a notice in one or more media platforms.
38. Where possible, the medium or media selected for publication will be targeted towards the members of the public and/or patient base(s) most likely to have an interest in, or be affected by, Council's order. If necessary and appropriate, Council may order that the notice be translated into the language or languages of the pharmacist's key patient base(s) and published in a relevant publication in that language.

39. Means of publication may include:

- (a) A notice by way of letter to relevant people (whether health practitioners or otherwise) including, but not limited to, people who have the power to ensure compliance with Council's order.
- (b) Any hard copy media publication that, in Council's view, is likely to be read by members of the public likely to seek healthcare services from the pharmacist.
- (c) Any electronic medium that, in Council's view, is likely to be accessed by members of the public in the geographical location, or area of practice, serviced by the pharmacist. This includes but is not limited to the Council's own website, online news platforms and relevant community pages on social media sites (e.g. Twitter, Facebook, Neighbourly). When using sites other than Council's website, the Council will generally only publish a link to the notice, so that it retains control of the published information.
- (d) A professional association's publication (this may be particularly relevant where Council is concerned about the pharmacist seeking employment or Council wants to limit new referrals to a pharmacist).
- (e) Any other publication that Council considers is appropriate in the particular circumstances and having regard to the need to ensure access to the necessary information by members of the public most likely to have an interest in the information.

Administration

40. In accordance with section 157F of the Act, Council will review this policy within three years after it comes into force, and then at intervals of no more than three years.

Appendix 2: Considerations when balancing pharmacist’s privacy interest against public interest<sup>4</sup>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>While naming a practitioner will always have some risk of professional harm, the risk of permanent and/or disproportionate harm to a practitioner should be considered, especially if the matter is unsubstantiated and involves a serious allegation (e.g. sexual or criminal misconduct).</li> </ul>
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>There may be factors that heighten the risk of personal harm arising from publication of information, for example the physical or mental health of the health practitioner or people close to the practitioner, or the size of the community in which they practise.</li> </ul>
Extent to which information is already known to the requester, or in the public domain	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The privacy interest may be diminished by prior knowledge or public availability of the information.</li> </ul>
Age and relevance of complaint information	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The privacy interest may be higher if the matter is historical and there is no imminent risk of harm to the public. In this context, the disclosure of personal information about naming the health practitioner may be unfair.</li> </ul>
Whether the matter is substantiated	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>The privacy interest is higher where the matter is unsubstantiated— the allegation made has not been formally upheld (i.e., at initial receipt of the notification, and while inquiries are being made or an investigation is being undertaken).</li> <li>A health practitioner’s legitimate expectation of privacy will be diminished where the matter has been substantiated (e.g., results of competence review, Tribunal decision).</li> </ul>
Whether the investigation is ongoing	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Health practitioners are likely to have a higher privacy interest while the investigation of a matter is ongoing. Inhibiting open disclosure	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Routinely naming individual practitioners may undermine progress in creating a culture of open disclosure to improve the quality of safe care.</li> </ul>
Early resolution may hinder improved practice	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Practitioners may seek early resolution to complaints to avoid risk of being named. While this may suit the individual complainant, the underlying issues may not be addressed, risking repeat, and an ultimate failure to properly ensure that the public is protected.</li> </ul>

Damage to colleague's reputation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Registered health practitioners considering notifying of concerns about a colleague's competence may be less inclined to do so if they fear this will unfairly impact on the colleague's reputation.</li></ul>
Patient's privacy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Assess whether a publication may impact a patient's privacy interest and consider the risk of patient(s) being identified because of naming the practitioner.</li></ul>
